REAL CHINA DRAGON AMERICA WOULD KILL

Toll on Goods in Transit Is Cause of Trouble.

Washington.—American representatives have laid before the great powers and China a proposal to free China from foreign restrictions on tariff levies in return for abolition of the "likin."

"The real dragon of modern China, is the 'likin,' in the opinion of foreign traders and many Chinese," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society from its headquarters in Washington, D. C. "The abolition of a similar tax by the Constitution of the United States helped save the Union. The Americans at Peking may be doing for China what George Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Franklin and others did for the colonies at Philadelphia in 1787. It was not until 1870 that the 'likin' was abolished within the German Union.

Taxes Levied in Transit.

"The nearest equivalent which English has for the Chinese word 'likin' is 'per cent.' The Chinese term means 'per mills,' that is, a tax apportioned according to thousands. It has taken on a different meaning in the course of years until now a 'likin' station is known as a 'squeeze' station. Likin stations are toll posts where taxes are levied on goods in transit. While some of the collections made at the 'squeeze' stations go to the central government, most of the revenue falls into the hands of the provincial governors or the district mandarins.

"From Shanghai to Soochow it is 84 miles and goods going from one city to the other have to pass eight likin stations. At the first and last stations all goods are dutiable; at the rest all goods must be examined, and there is scarcely a single article that does not in that transit pay at least three taxes.

"If a parallel system were set up on the New York-Philadelphia highway, all the motor trucks would be compelled to stop at customs stations in New York, Hoboken, Newark, Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Princeton, Trenton and Philadelphia. At each station the entire contents of the truck would be ransacked and the drivers would be compelled to pay a certain sum. Obviously the road run of a few hours would lengthen into a day or two. The expense of tax and time would put a burden on business which would be shifted to the consumer. In the end commerce by truck would be smothered. This cycle is complete in China where foreign goods commonly penetrate only a brief distance from the free treaty ports, and even domestic trade dribbles along in anemic fashion.

Likin Is Not Old.

"Unlike most Chinese creations, the likin is not old. It was invented about 1850 to raise money for the support of the army suppressing the Taiping rebellion. Its success as a source of cash soon recommended it to governors of various towns and provinces. These officials are always pushed to acquire personal and civic finances. They knew as well as anyone that in the past money which went to Peking stayed in Peking. Likin offered a satisfactory answer.

"Continued existence of likin recognizes that China is a collection of semi-independent states such as the United States and Germany were when in embryo.

"The problem of the likin has been up before International councils before. Agreements have been made that foreign traders could purchase through transit tickets for their goods at the point of departure which would free shipments from likin toll. But even in the recent meetings of the conference there have been reports that provincial war lords have ignored these pacts. They were charged with levying double and triple likin to support their armies."

Indians Break Rule; Ute Tribe Mourns

Durango, Colo.—Attorney Barry Sullivan, a Harvard law graduate, was tilled along with his wife, when their automobile, driven by their daughter, skidded from a mountain roadway near Durango, in southwestern Colorado. Mr. Sullivan had been legal counsellor and an adopted member of the five confederated Ute tribes of Utah and Colorado for more than twenty-five years, sitting in many of their important councils and guiding them both as a lawyer and friend.

Sullivan's tragic death was a severe blow to the Indians and they broke all tribal customs and traditions by attending his funeral in full war regalia and in participating in the services at the graves of Mr. Sullivan and his wife. So far as can be learned this is the first public funeral of a white man in which the Ute tribes have taken part.

Stray Dog Finds Oil in Old Abandoned Well

Muskogee, Okla.—Furious digging by a stray dog on the Katherine Lee Oil company's lease near here led to the discovery of oil in a well that had been abandoned for 11 years.

W. H. Sommerville, president of the oil company, was attracted by the actions of the dog, and upon investigation found a plank covering a 10-inch casing standing almost full of oil. The well had been plugged. Actual measurement showed 1,425 feet of oil in the well, which will be equipped for pumping.

The dog fled, and has not returned for the reward that awaits him.

Terror to Sailing Vessels

The Horse latitudes is a region about 30 to 35 degrees west to the Atlantic, where sailing vessels carrying horses to the West Indies were frequently becalmed and had to throw the animals overboard for lack of water.

SNAPS FISH AT HOME IN OCEAN

Bartsch Tells Experience Off Florida Coast.

Washington.—The ocean floor, the world's last great unexplored region, will soon have its secrets revealed by motion pictures, according to Dr. Paul Bartsch of the United States national museum, who has made an underwater cinema hunt for fishes among the coral grottos off the coast of Florida.

With his specially constructed waterproof camera he secured hundreds of feet of record of submarine life and spent as much as five and a half hours at a time walking about the sea bottom, 20 feet below the surface.

It is at this comparatively shallow depth, he says, that life is most varied and abundant, since the coral and other sea animals build in the teeth of the breakers, where the backward and forward flow of the water brings fresh supplies of the microscopic plants and animals which form their food. However, next season he plans to descend to greater depths with another camera better adapted to catch the slowly moving fish as they silently glide out of the blue haze which fills the coral-columned aisles of their submarine retreats.

The camera man, in his diving helmet, has little to fear, Doctor Bartsch records, in invading these underwater regions. Sharks are sometimes seen, he admits, but adds that "sharks are always gentlemen." In the course of recent film, however, when he first saw that terror of the ocean, the barracuda, instead of leveling his camera, he instinctively snatched up his tripod and prepared to battle for his life as the big fish swam around him, mildly curious at the silvery bubbles rising from his diving helmet. The next day Doctor Bartsch was so far conquered his instinctive fear of this fish as to secure a good picture of two barracudas as they circled around him.

Horse in Roosevelt Statue Starts Criticism

Portland, Ore.—Criticism voiced by Oswald West, ex-governor and well-known horse lover, that Theodore Roosevelt is poorly mounted in the equestrian statue, presented to the city by Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, found some support among horsemen.

The question of the horse's appearance and naturalness of its pose, however, was not regarded as important, open to attack by either art critics or horse lovers, who rallied unanimously almost to the support of the conception portrayed by A. Phimister Proctor, sculptor, as a work of art.

In short, the only real point in the criticism leveled at the statue by Mr. West, as borne out by other authorities, is that the choice of the type of steed was unwise rather than unartistic or unnatural.

Natt McDougall, president of the Portland Hunt club and authority on horses, supported the opinion of those who contended that the animal selected for Roosevelt's mount is too small.

However, Mr. McDougall criticized in the same terms the steeds suggested by Mr. West, saying he was prepared to brand the five-gaited horse mentioned by Mr. West as entirely unsuited to the strenuous horsemanship of Roosevelt.

Soldier Lives Only by Being Cut Into Pieces

Lausanne, Switzerland.—In a hospital here surgeons are slowly cutting a man to pieces to save his life. The man is Albert Poldevera, forty-six, formerly a soldier of fortune in the French Foreign Legion. In 48 operations in 13 years he has lost his fingers, toes, hands, feet, legs and arms. Yet he cheerfully clings to life.

The man is suffering from symmetric gangrene, which is thought to be incurable. He will live until his vital organs are attacked, surgeons explain.

Uses Artificial Fog to Save Crops From Frost

New York.—The artificial fog invented by a Scandinavian and called by Prof. A. V. Jarzberg, for military purposes is being put to peace-time use in Norway to protect crops from frost. The American Chemical society received this information from a correspondent in Horten, Norway. The experimenter also said that brisk manufacturers were planning experiments with the man-made fog in their gardening houses as frost is detrimental to newly-made brick.

Famous Cody Diamond Vanishes From Vault

Greeley, Colo.—The famous Cody diamond, said to have been given to Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," by a European monarch, has disappeared.

The setting, which held a six and one-half carat diamond, was discovered to hold nothing but a piece of glass, by R. J. Losey, collector for the county treasurer's office. The substitution was discovered during an appraisal of the assets of the defunct Northern State bank here.

The gem was supposed to have laid untouched in a safety deposit box in the bank since Cody and Sean, nephew of the Indian fighter, put it up as security on a loan several years ago.

INDIGESTION

Black-Draught Brings Relief for Tight, Bloated Feeling.

"I had indigestion," says Mr. W. A. Bonknight, of Ballentine, S. C. "Working out in the field in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable.

"I would feel stupid and drowsy, I didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief.

Black-Draught also helps the over-taxed organs to perform their regular functions, in such cases, ridding the system of poisons that might accumulate.

JESUS RAISES LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD

LESSON TEXT—John 11:1-57.

GOLDEN TEXT—I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth on Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."—John 11:25.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Lazarus Raised from the Dead.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Lazarus Raised from the Dead.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Power Over Death.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ the Resurrection and the Life.

I. Lazarus Sick (vv. 1, 2).

Even those who are in close fellowship with the Lord are not immune from sickness. Sorrow comes even to the home where Jesus is loved.

II. Martha and Mary Send for Jesus (vv. 3).

Those who receive Jesus into their home when all are well and happy can be sure of His love and sympathy when sickness and death overtake them.

III. Jesus' Strange Delay (vv. 4-6). Martha and Mary sent for Jesus because He loved Lazarus. They said, "He whom thou lovest is sick." Now Jesus "abode in the same place" because He loved Lazarus and his sisters (v. 5). This mystery is to be explained by the fact that Jesus was divine and knew all things.

IV. Jesus Goes to the Bethany Home (vv. 7-17).

At length He turned His face toward the sorrowing home. Jesus knew and the disciples apparently knew that going into Judea meant His own death. His mission to this home was twofold: to restore to these sisters their brother and to strengthen the faith of the disciples (vv. 11-15). The word "sleep" reveals Jesus' estimate of death.

V. Jesus Comforting Martha (vv. 18-27).

As He is nearing the village Martha meets Him with a complaint because of His delay. He ignores her complaint and teaches her concerning the resurrection and life.

1. "Thy Brother Shall Rise Again" (v. 23).

Most blessed words are these to fall upon the ears of a sorrowing sister for [illegible]

2. "I Am the Resurrection and the Life" (vv. 25, 26).

He is the source of life and all are joined to Him by a living faith. The believer cannot die. The great truth indeed to be apprehended is that here we are united to the living Christ, the source of life, and that this is a pledge of bodily resurrection and eternal reunion.

VI. Jesus Weeping With Mary (vv. 28-35).

Mary fell at Jesus' feet, uttering the same words used by Martha, but no doubt with a different tone of voice and attitude. Her words were responded to with His tears—"Jesus wept." He is now a sympathizing Savior; He can be touched with the feelings of our infirmities. (Heb. 4:15).

VII. Jesus Raising Lazarus (vv. 38-44).

His great sympathy now expresses itself in supernatural power. Sympathy would be valueless without its connection with divine power. In this stupendous miracle we see an illustration of the quickening into life of those dead in trespasses and sin.

Observe: 1. He Was Dead (v. 39) This is a type of the sinner dead in trespasses and sins, even morally corrupt (Eph. 2:1).

2. The Stone Must Be Rolled Away (v. 39).

This is the part that the human must play.

3. Martha's Protest of Unbelief (v. 39).

She insisted that Lazarus had already undergone putrefaction.

4. Christ's Intimacy and Fellowship With the Father (v. 42).

In His prayer He declared that it was not for His sake that He prayed but for those who stood by.

5. Christ's Manner of Dealing With Lazarus (v. 43).

It was by a call. He is calling men and women today by His Spirit, Word and providence.

6. The Response of Lazarus (v. 44).

This shows that the call of Jesus is with authority and power. With the call goes the power to heal and obey.

VIII. The Command to the People (v. 44).

They were to remove the grave clothes and set him free.

VIII. The Effect of This Miracle (vv. 45-57).

1. Some Believed (v. 45).

2. His Enemies Sought to Put Him to Death (vv. 46-53).

3. His Withdrawal (v. 54).

The Soul of Religion

Always remember that sincerity is the very soul of religion. A single intention to please God and to approve ourselves to Him must animate and govern all that we do.—Philip Doddridge.

Holiness

Holiness is religion shining. It is faith gone to work. It is charity coined into actions, and devotion breathing benedictions on human sufferings.—Bishop Huntington.
